Today's readings describe how God feeds the hunger of his people, first, through the prophet Elisha. While the food presented by the prophet seemed insufficient to feed the present crowd, through God's power the prophet provided not only what was needed but an excess. It was a miracle. God satisfied the people's hunger. In the gospel, Jesus takes the opportunity to teach and provide for the needs of the people. He gives them their daily meal. Jesus multiplies the fishes and loaves and personally distributes the food to each person, meeting their bodily needs. But Jesus does more than simply provide physical food. He teaches the people that God will provide in abundance. Nothing must go to waste. All must be used for God's work and greater glory.

Jesus is the answer to all the hungers of our world, but as St. Teresa of Avila has written, we are the hands, the feet, and the eyes of the Lord in our world. Thus, it is through our efforts that the hungry must be fed. It is through our efforts that the hungry must be fed. It is through our work that the world can know peace. Justice and a spirit of love are brought to the world by our ministry and example. Our efforts are the efforts of God. God works through us.

PRESERVE THE UNITY OF THE SPIRIT THROUGH THE BOND OF PEACE: Saint Paul's letter to the Ephesians, from which the second reading at Mass this weekend is taken, emphasizes the unity of the Church. It is not written solely to the Christian community in Ephesus, but to the worldwide Church united to Jesus Christ her head and shepherd. Yet this focus on unity is not out of concern for the Church herself, but instead as the means for making God's plan of salvation known throughout the world. Some ask how the changes the On Mission for The Church Alive! initiative is bringing about can lead to growth and strength for the Church of Pittsburgh. The answer is that we are being invited to work hard and pray even harder to be united in faith as we come together to form new parish communities. There will be challenges ahead, but let us listen to the wisdom of Saint Paul as we "bear with one another through love" and focus our hearts on what unites us in faith: "one Lord, one faith, one baptism; one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.
